

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

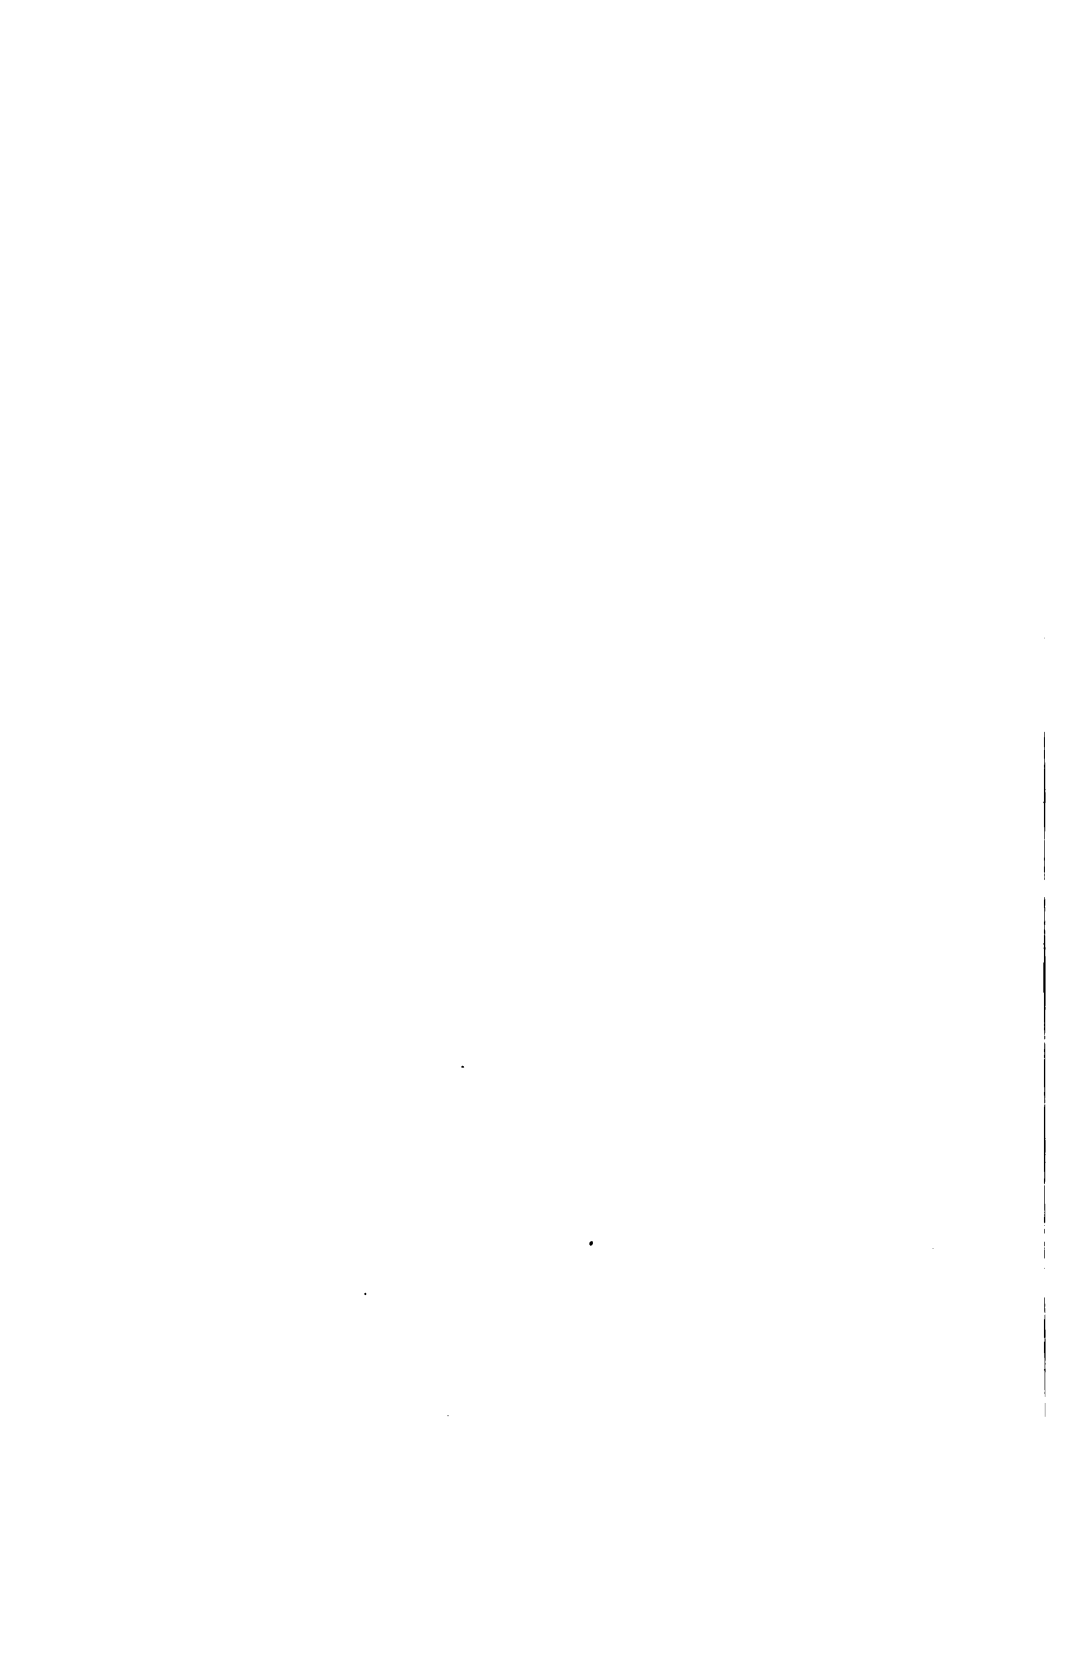

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

COLEMAN.

The Following is an Extract From a History of Thomas Coleman, of Wetherfield, Written by the Rev. Lyman Coleman, D. D.:

The name of Coleman first appears, as far as known in history, A. D. 664, as that of a celebrated Scotch Bishop, of Lindisfarde, or Holy Island, on the northeast coast of England, below the Tweed. This Bishop, in consequence of a vehement controversy, retired and built a monastery on the Island of Hii, Iona, on the West of Scotland; then another on the Island of Inishofinde, on the West of Ireland, and yet another on this island, now annexed to the Archbishopric of Taum, in Ireland, where he died A. D. 676.

Another, a Bishop in Ireland, baptised by the former, built also another monastery in the island. A third was murdered with the Bishop of Wurzburg, in Germany, A. D. 689. One of this name from Scotland, in the eleventh century, went on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, and was slain in Austria, and became a patron Saint of the country A. D. 1015.

These all have a place in the Roman Calendar. The 18th of October is still noted as the memorable day of the Saint last mentioned. The name Kohlman early appears in German history, and again in the twelfth century. It is at the present time a familiar and frequent name in Germany, Ireland, England and the United States of America.

In heraldry there are three coats of arms of different branches of the Coleman family.

Emigrants Other Than William of Gloucester, Mass.

On November 20, 1635, bound for the Barbadoes in the "Experience," John Coleman, aged 40 years.

Bernard Coleman leaves London (aged 26) in the "Truelove" for Barbadoes or Somers Island, January 1635.

A Henry Coleman and wife were living in Virginia in 1623. In 1624 his muster in is given, aged 30, and his wife Ann, aged 26 years. He came over in the "Noah" in August, 1610, and his wife Ann came in May, 1620, in the "Merchaunt" of London.

History says Lord Baltimore arrived in Virginia in 1610, with three ships and that in 1620 nine young women of humble birth but unexceptional character were sold to the planters as wives, prices ranging from 100 to 150 pounds of tobacco.

The early records of Connecticut show a Widow Colemen was permitted to send seven pounds of corn to Boston.

Thomas Coleman (Newbery) from Marlborough in Wilts, England, arrived at Boston, June 3, 1635, in the "James," from Southampton. He came under contract with Sir Richard Saltonstall and others, to keep their cattle, in which he was negligent, yet he was admitted a freeman on May 17, 1637, by wife Susanna, who died Nov. 17, 1650. He had Tobias, 1638; Benjamin, May 1, 1640; Joseph, Dec. 2, 1642; John, 1644; Isaac, Feb. 20, 1647, and Joanna. Removed to Hampton, married July 11, 1651, Mary, widow of Edmond Johnson, who died Jan. 30, 1663. He took for his third wife Margery, daughter of Philip Fowler, widow of Thomas Rowell, of Andover, and had been first widow of Christopher, of Andover.

He removed to Nantucket before 1663 and died there in 1682, aged 83 years. Perhaps Susanna, who died Jan. 2, 1643, was his daughter. His son Isaac was drowned June 6, 1669, unmarried.

John, of Nantucket, son of the preceding, Thomas, married Joanna, eldest daughter of Peter Folger, had John, Aug. 2, 1667; Thomas, Oct. 17, 1669; Isaac, Feb. 6, 1672; Phebe, June 15, 1674; Benjamin and Abigail, twins, Jan. 17, 1677; Solomon and Jeremiah. He, John, died 1716. His widow died July 18, 1719.

Joseph, of Nantucket, brother of the preceding, married Ann, daughter of George Bunker, had Joseph, Nov. 17, 1663, who was drowned in his youth, and Ann, Nov. 10, 1675. He, Joseph, died 1690.

Tobias, of Rowley, eldest son of Thomas of Newberry, had Jabez, May 27, 1668; Sarah, June 17, 1670; Thomas, March 26, 1672; Lydia, Deborah, May 25, 1676; Eleazer, Ephraim and Judah. The eldest was killed by the Indians at Kingston.

Thomas Coleman (Wethersfield), 1630 (See Mass. Reports, 16, 1 and 6, also Vol. iii, page 330), removed to Hadley, freeman 1641, there died 1647, leaving a goodly estate to two sons John and Noah, and three daughters of whom Sarah married Robert Treat, one married Philip Davis, of Hartford, and Deborah married David Gunn, of Milford. Part of the property was at Everham, Worcestershire, England. His second wife was a widow, Frances Wells, by whom he had Deborah.

Noah (Hadley) son of Thomas (Wethersfield), was freeman 1672, had been freeman in Connecticut 1648, probably removed 1659; had Thomas 1664; Hannah, 1667; John, 1669; Noah, 1671; Sarah, 1673, and Bethia, 1676, who was killed by the Indians with his mother, Sept. 19, 1677; Ebenezer, 1680; Nathaniel, 1684, was deacon, both wives unknown. His third wife was Mary, daughter of Robert Day, and was before widow of Thomas Stebbens and before was the widow of Samuel Sly, and died 1725. Of the sons three or more went to Connecticut.

A William Coleman was made a freeman in 1680, and in 1687 was assessed £50. In 1672 a James Coleman, who married Mehetable, widow of Samuel Hensdale, applied for the right to give deeds for some unregistered sales of land.

Joseph Coleman came to New England in 1635, from Sandwick, Kent, England, with his wife and four children. He settled first at Charlestown, Mass., removed in 1638 to Scituate and thence to Norwalk, Conn., before 1690, where he died before 1700; had sons Joseph, Zachariah and Thomas and several daughters.

William Coleman, with his wife Elizabeth, came from London, Eng., in the Ship "Arebella," May 27, 1671. He was the son of Mathew and Grace Coleman, of Satterly, Norwalk, Eng., and was baptised there August 31, 1643. They had three children; Mary, Dec. 3, 1671; Benjamin, Oct. 19, 1673, and John. Their son, the Rev. Benjamin, D. D., was a prominent divine in Boston, Mass. He died Aug. 29, 1747.

Edward Coleman, Boston, 1661; Barnstable, 1662, married Margeret Lombard, daughter of Thomas, of Barnstable, Oct. 27, 1648, and had five children: Elizabeth, Jan. 28, 1652; Mary, Sept. 12, 1653; Martha, Aug. 8, 1655; James, Jan. 31, 1657; Abigail.

Samuel Coleman settled in Ipswich, Mass., before 1700, and died there, had children: James, Rebecca, William and Sarah (Mrs. Dow).

The first discovery of Long Island by Europeans was made by Hendric Hudson early in September, 1609. He entered New York Harbor on the 3d of September. During the week a boat's crew engaged in making explorations landed at Coney Island, the first portion of land pressed by the foot of white man. On the sixth, John Coleman, of a party that was sent up the river to sound and explore, was killed, and two others wounded, by a party of twenty-six savages in two canoes. Next day Coleman's body was buried on the shore and the place of his interment was named Coleman's Point. Coleman's Point is now called Sandy Hook.

WILLIAM COLEMAN.

The tradition of the Coleman family is that William Coleman, at the age of sixteen, was transported through the instigation of the brother-in-law of William's brother George, William being the heir of his father's estate, and to get him out of the way, had him transported. In proof of the above, we find that about 260 persons were transported to Virginia in 1635 in the ship Assurance.

"These under written names are to be transported to Virginia im-
barked in the Assurance de Lo: Isack Brommell & Geo: Pewsie Mr

examined by the minister of the Town of Gravesend of their conformity in or (our) Religion, the men have taken the oath of allegiance & Supremacie." This list consisted of over 260 names, the youngest being one and one-half years of age. History says that the English government paid the transportation of a large number of persons, some idlers, others noblemen, whose income had been lived up, and they were an unprofitable lot of men for the settlement, the result being that many were killed by the Indians, some starved, others went to the other colonies. The Massachusetts records show that a large number came and settled. Among them was our William, who settled near Gloucester. From the above we find that William Coleman, aged 16 years, was transported in the ship Assurance from Gravesend, England, on the 24th of July, 1635. The tradition further says that the captain of the ship, on the arrival in America, bound him out to a farmer and that he married this farmer's only daughter. I find that William (1) was living near Gloucester, Mass., where he settled prior to 1654, but cannot find who this only daughter was, but can find that he married on Nov. 14, 1662, a widow, Bridget Row. She was the widow of John Row, who died in 1662. She had by him two sons, but by William Coleman she had no children. She died May 2, 1680. William died on the 18th of April, 1680. We find the first wife's William in Southold, a fairly wealthy farmer, in 1675, and as William (1) was born in 1619, the probabilities are that William (2) was born about 1650, in Gloucester. There was a John Coleman, who died in 1665, and a James living in 1668. The records fail to show their relationship.

The first record of William (2) at Southold, Suffolk Co., N. Y., is found in the Documentary History of New York, page 453, Vol. ii, dated the 16th of September, 1675, where we find the following:

1 heade, 4 acors land,	£ 22.
2 cows,	10.
2 2-yr. olds,	05.
2 yearlings,	03.
1 horse, 1 2-yr. old,	17.
2 swine,	02.
	£ 59.

(Note: The head was assessed at £18, cows at £5, horses at £12. All land at £1 per acre regardless of quality or buildings).

We find the estimate of the town of Southold, taken in the year 1683, shows that William Coleman was rated at £78 in total. No details as given in 1675.

In the census of Southold, taken in 1698, we find the following:

William Coleman.	William Coleman, Jr.
Mary Coleman.	Mary Coleman, Jr.
Abigail Coleman.	John Coleman.
Sarah Coleman.

The following are the children of William Coleman and Mary Mapes : William, John, George, Abigail and Sarah.

John (3) emigrated to New London, Conn., and part of his descendants, before the Revolution, removed to Wyoming Valley, Pa., and at the time of the massacre they returned as far as Mt. Hope, Orange Co., N. Y.

William (3) settled in Orange County, N. Y., and bought 1,016 acres of land on the 15th day of May, 1738, of Joseph Sacket, of New Town, Queens Co., N. Y., on the Island of Nassau.

George (3) was the first to leave Southold. We find him at Goshen, Orange Co., N. Y., in 1732.

The Coleman Family in the American Revolution.

The Spirit of '76.

The loyalty of our family to the colonies during the Revolution is well attested by the fact that there was only one who refused to sign the pledge of the association.

THE PLEDGE.

Persuaded that the salvation of the rights and liberties of America depends on the form of union of its inhabitants in a vigorous prosecution of the measures necessary for its safety; and convinced of the necessity of preventing anarchy and confusion, which attend the dissolution of the powers of government,

We, the freeman, freeholders and inhabitants of do, in the most solemn manner, resolve never to become slaves; and to associate under all the ties of religion, honor and love of our country, to adopt and endeavor to carry in execution whatever measures may be recommended by the Continental Congress or resolved upon by our Provincial Convention for the purpose of preserving our constitution, and opposing the execution of the several arbitrary acts of the British Parliament, until a reconciliation between Great Britain and America, on constitutional principles (which we most ardently desire), can be obtained, and that we will, in all things, follow the advice of our General Committee respecting the purpose aforesaid, the preservation of peace and good order, and the safety of individuals and property.

Following are the names of those who signed the pledge:

New Windsor—John Coleman, George Coleman, George Coleman 2d.

Cornwall—Asahel Coleman, Daniel Coleman, Richard Coleman, Micah Coleman, Joab Coleman, Silas Coleman.

The last was appointed on the Committee of Safety and Observation on the 27th day of January, 1775, and was elected the committee's chairman. This Joseph Coleman did not belong to the family of William (1), but to the family of Thomas, of Nantucket.

The sixth company was composed of citizens of Peinpack, Mamakating Precinct, Ulster Co., N. Y.

JOHN CRAPSER COLEMAN

JOHN CRAPSER COLEMAN.

The subject of this sketch was born July 28th, 1819, in Newton, New Jersey, where his parents were temporarily residing. Subsequently, his father, William Coleman, purchased a carding mill near Florida, Orange County, New York. This, and the grist mill, which in time took its place, he operated until his death in 1850. His mother was Ann, daughter of Nathaniel and Margaret (Bradner) Conkling, of Goshen, Orange County, New York.

John was the third son of a family of ten children. As a young child, he was far from robust, and his parents feared that he would not live long. A family friend, who, with his wife, was a frequent visitor at the Coleman homestead, and with whom the boy was a great favorite, finally persuaded his parents to let them take him into their family in New York City. Here his early boyhood was passed, and he obtained the beginnings of an education. While still a boy, he removed with his foster parents to St. Lawrence County, New York, where the air of the forest and the free life of the lumber camps fully established his health. He also attended a French school and acquired a working knowledge of the French language.

At eleven years of age, he was considered sufficiently equipped for business, and was regularly employed by his foster father as clerk and bookkeeper, until about 1840, when he formed a partnership in the lumber business in Montreal with Mr. Jasper G. Sims, under the firm name of Sims & Coleman. Business transactions required Mr. Coleman to make occasional journeys to New York City. There he became acquainted with Miss Ellen LeFevre, daughter of the Rev. Clement F. LeFevre, former pastor of the Bleecker Street Universalist Church, to whom he was married on July 28th, 1851, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, whither she had removed with her parents in 1844.

Mr. Coleman continued to reside in Montreal until 1853, and there his oldest son, Clement LeFevre, was born on September 30, 1852. In 1863, the Great Fire entirely destroyed the lumber yards and mills of Sims & Coleman. Mr. Coleman then returned to the United States. He had never renounced his allegiance to this country. After about a year spent in New York City in the brokerage business, he concluded to follow the "Star of Empire" to the great West. The thriving city of Milwaukee naturally presented strong attractions. There Mrs. Coleman's parents had established their home, "Hazelwood," adjoining the City on the south, and there Mr. and Mrs. Coleman cast their lot. The two families joined forces, and with the additional land purchased by Mr. Coleman, the homestead comprised a beautiful tract of ninety-five acres of woodland and meadow, sloping down to the Kinnickinnic

River, then a modest country stream, but which in these later years has become a great commercial highway, lined with immense factories and industrial establishments of many kinds.

Soon after his removal to Milwaukee, Mr. Coleman became connected with the Kenosha County Bank, of which institution he was for many years President. Upon his retirement, he devoted himself mainly to the cultivation and improvement of his farm. He made a specialty of the best varieties of apples, and his orchard was said to be the finest in the State.

After a few years, the rapid growth of the City caused Hazelwood to be included within the Corporation limits, and as the population encroached year by year, it finally became impossible to profitably continue farming operations and fruit growing. On account of its excellent railroad and dockage facilities, the valley of the Kinnickinnic River was developing into an important manufacturing district, and there arose a demand for nearby building lots for working men's homes. Taking advantage of this condition, Mr. Coleman, about the year 1880, platted a portion of Hazelwood, and commenced the sale of city lots. At the time of his death, in 1896, considerable of the land had been thus disposed of. Another portion (of woodland) was purchased by the City in 1890 for a public park, and in 1900 an additional piece was sold for the same purpose, the whole being then given the name of Kosciuszko Park. The dwelling house, the river frontage and a number of building lots are still in the possession of the family, although the premises have not been occupied by them since 1898. For several years the main house has been used as the Settlement House of the Wisconsin University Settlement Association.

Mr. Coleman took a great interest in the growth and development of Milwaukee, and never entirely relinquished business affairs. There was seldom a time, up to within a few years of his death, when he was not interested more or less directly in some business enterprise. He was a man of sterling character; in his business relations he was exceedingly conscientious and painstaking, and stood very high in the estimation of all who had dealings with him. He was essentially domestic in his tastes and never aspired to public office. He preferred a less conspicuous life. He was a man of a hopeful and sympathetic temperament, and was ever ready, to the extent of his means, to lend a hand in aid of charitable and religious work, disregarding entirely the narrow limits of sect and creed.

In the 78th year of his age, after three years of gradually failing health, on May 28th, 1896, Mr. Coleman passed away, in the home which, for forty years, had been the center of his affections and the inspiration of all his endeavors. He was survived by his widow and all of his five children, as well as a number of grand-children, all of whom still live in Milwaukee, except the oldest son, Clement, who for the past ten years, has resided at Fairhope, Alabama.

SILAS HORTON COLEMAN

Silas Horton Coleman was one of the pioneers of Wisconsin, being the first merchant to settle in Juneau, Dodge County—a section of the State that is often termed “the garden spot of the United States.” Certainly few communities have enjoyed a richer endowment of nature and to its development he contributed steadily and forcefully from 1848 to 1875. He was born March 11, 1817, the first of eleven sons and daughters born to Joseph H. (1794-1879) and Sarah R. Coleman (1800-1894), of Chester, Morris County, N. J. There he was “raised,” had his schooling and served his apprenticeship as a cooper. In 1837 he accompanied his father on a prospecting trip to Michigan and Wisconsin, during which both were smitten with the germ of the “Western fever” that later led them to remove their families first to Battle Creek, Michigan and then to Wisconsin. That was in 1847. Meanwhile Silas had married Catherine Van Dyne, of Pine Brook, N. J., a daughter of a sturdy Holland family whose members had left Europe in the seventeenth century. Two children, Harvey E. and Laura, were born in Chester and then the family moved to New York City where Silas H. established a dry goods store at 19-21 Green Street. When this venture was sold out the removal to Michigan took place. Battle Creek was not a health resort in those days, and after a year, battling with chills and fever, the family again moved, this in 1848, a few weeks after the birth of Matilda, the third child.

Juneau was chosen for a home after a sight of the swampy sites of Chicago and Milwaukee and the first store of the settlement was opened in a log cabin. The business prospered so that a few years later the first brick business structure was erected to house it. This building is still standing. Wilber N., the fourth and last child, was born there March 11, 1850. Harvey E. served with distinction in the Civil War, winning promotion from the ranks at Gettysburg. The Juneau store was sold in 1870 and five years later Silas H. moved to Fond du Lac, whither his father had gone in 1860. In the early 90's Silas H. and his wife became interested in Daytona, Florida. They finally moved there and there Silas H. died in October, 1900. His widow still lives there.

STEPHEN COLEMAN,

Merchant, Rochester, N. Y.

Stephen Coleman, the oldest son of Maria Drake (Sebring) and Philip Coleman, was born in Goshen, Orange County, N. Y., July 6, 1826. When about ten years of age, he came with his parents to Monroe Co., where they purchased a farm in the beautiful, fertile district, situated on the Ridge road a few miles from Rochester. He lived here a few years, when the family came to Rochester, where the rest of his life was spent. Education was obtained in the district and public school, supplemented by a course in a Commercial College, which fitted him for the business career for which he early showed a natural bent. To the knowledge acquired by early education, he added a fund of general information by reading, observation and practical experience and these habits characterized his whole life.

He started in life as a clerk in the paint and oil store of Thomas Weddle & Co., but soon embarked in business for himself and established the firm of Coleman & Barnard, paint and oil dealers, which he conducted for some years, when he sold his interest and erected a foundry for the wholesale manufacture of hardware, which he carried on successfully for many years. He was married Feb. 9, 1859, to Jane Catherine Taylor, of Rochester, daughter of Jane Wilson and John Taylor. He took his wife to the home in Madison Street, which he had erected, where he continued to live until his death on April 1st, 1882, and where the family still resides.

There were two children:

Augusta Marie, who married Hon. John A. Barliste, a prominent lawyer of Rochester, and died Oct. 4, 1894, and Lillian Blanche Coleman, who resides with her mother in the family home. He was a man of strict integrity and his life was characterized by sobriety, industry and thrift. Possessed of a kind and generous disposition, he won the high esteem of his associates. In politics he was a Republican, but never became actively identified with partisan affairs, although ever manifesting a keen interest in public matters, for the welfare of his city.

JOHN THEW COLEMAN

JOHN THEW COLEMAN.

John Thew Coleman was born in Middletown, N. Y., December 12th, 1867, and moved with his parents April 1st, 1869, to the town of Hamptonburgh, N. Y., on the banks of the Wallkill River near Crystal Run, where his mother still resides. Mr. Coleman spent a number of years as a student at the Goshen Institute where he endeared himself to his instructors and fellow students. From the fitting school he went to Colby University, in Maine, where he took the full collegiate course, graduating in the class of 1894. His four years of college work were years marked by steady improvement in scholarship and an ever widening circle of friends. He was a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. After graduating from college, he entered the New York Law School and completed two years of study in that institution, and would have graduated with his class in the spring. This, however, was not to be.

In January symptoms of lung trouble developed and he was advised by his physician to go South. Accordingly several months were spent in Florida. He returned to his home in the early summer and the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon him by his Alma Mater. He remained until October when he went to San Antonio, Texas. While there he grew rapidly worse and passed away December 12th, 1897, and he was interred at Scotchtown, Orange Co., N. Y.

His father, John Thew Coleman, was born on March 7th, 1823, and was the son of John Finch Coleman and Letty Thew, and grandson of Benjamin Coleman and Hannah Finch. She and her family were refugees from the Wyoming Valley massacre. John T. Coleman, Sr., married Mary Louisa Slaughter on October 27, 1847, a graduate of the Albany Female Academy, Class of 1844. Her father Joseph Slaughter, of Crystal Run, was a soldier of the War of 1812. Among the positions which he held were those of Justice of the Peace, County Judge, Member of Assembly and Elder in the Presbyterian church at Scotchtown, N. Y. Three children were born to John T. and Mary Louise Coleman: Joseph, the eldest, died in Middletown at the age of eleven years; Harriet died at the age of one year, and John Thew, Jr., was the youngest of the three children.

DAVID ROBINSON COLEMAN.

David Robinson Coleman, son of James Clinton Coleman and Naamah Darwin Robinson, was born August 4th, 1839, in Dansville, Livingston Co., N. Y. When quite young his parents moved to Kittanning, Pa., where they lived until 1852, when they moved to Muscatine, Ia., where his father died in 1853, leaving a widow and seven children. The family remained in Iowa until 1858, when the call of the West appealed to them once more and they moved to Kansas where they settled permanently. David R. grew to manhood in Ossawatimie. When the Civil War was commenced, he enlisted in 1861 in the Second Kansas Regiment and served as Adjutant of his regiment during the war.

In 1863 he joined a party going overland from Leavenworth, Kan., to Virginia City, Montana, with wagon loads of goods to be sold to the miners. The Sioux Indians were then at war with the United States, and they attacked the party several times, but were successfully repulsed each time.

After a long and perilous trip they reached Virginia City in safety. He remained in Montana over a year, returning by way of Salt Lake City and Denver in the old overland stage coach. The Indians were still on the war path. After leaving Denver the stage just ahead of them was captured by the Indians and they escaped the same fate by making a wide detour, finally reaching Leavenworth, after a thirty-one days' ride. He returned to Ossawatimie where, on September 24th, 1865, he married Alice Harrison Lysaght, born July 18th, 1844, was widow of Thomas Lysaght, by whom she had one son, Edward H. They had three children. Two of them, Alice and Anna DeWitt, died young; the second child, Maggie, still lives and is the wife of Robert W. Foat. They have one child, Margaret.

David R. afterwards moved to Missouri and after living there two years moved in 1875 to Texas, where they still reside, having lived since 1877 in Weatherford, where he, with his step-son, Edward H., are in partnership in the wholesale grocery business under the firm name of Coleman, Lysaght-Blair Co., Mr. Coleman being the President and Mr. Lysaght Treasurer of the company. The headquarters of the business has recently been removed to Wichita Falls. Mr. Coleman has retired from the active management of the firm and continues his home at Weatherford.

GEORGE RUMSEY COLEMAN

GEORGE RUMSEY COLEMAN.

George Rumsey Coleman was the son of John Case Coleman and Susan Brown. John Case Coleman was born in the town of Bloominggrove, Orange Co., N. Y., March 12, 1821. In 1847 he married Susan Brown, daughter of Samuel W. Brown and Anna Houston, of Scotchtown, N. Y. Mr. Brown was a veteran of the War of 1812. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman lived with his father, Joel Coleman, on the homestead farm until the year 1857, when they moved to Scotchtown where they bought a farm and at which place George Rumsey, the subject of our sketch, was born on August 1, 1860. In the year 1867 the family again removed to the town of Hamptonburgh, where Mr. Coleman had purchased the Phineas Rumsey Coleman farm which had been part of the farm of his grandfather Joel Coleman, on which farm he resided until the time of his death, which occurred July 3, 1901. His widow, Susan B., died at the same place on January 21, 1903. They were survived by two sons and one daughter, Charles Case, George Rumsey and Sarah Anna.

George Rumsey attained his education at the Farmingdale school. On January 17, 1894, he married Carrie Monell, daughter of Malcolm Tuthill and Jane Smith. Malcolm Tuthill was the son of Phineas Tuthill and Mary Bradner, the latter being the daughter of Rev. Benoni Bradner, who was pastor of the Bloominggrove church for many years. He died January 29, 1804, and was buried under the present edifice. His father was the Rev. John Bradner, the first Presbyterian minister at Goshen, N. Y., where his pastorate, which began in 1721, was terminated in 1732 by his death.

In politics Mr. Coleman is a staunch Democrat, as was his father and grandfather. He is the great-grand-son of Joel Coleman and Rachel Rumsey. Joel Coleman, the first, was born at Goshen, N. Y., May 13, 1759, and was one of the militia at the Battle of Minisink in 1779. He moved in the town of Bloominggrove in 1793 and purchased the farm now held by the widow of Joel H. Coleman and Miss Sarah A. Coleman.

Mr. Coleman has successfully carried on farming and in the year 1897 purchased the farm on which he now resides at Hamptonburgh Station, Orange Co., N. Y.

BENJAMIN CARPENTER COLEMAN.

On the page opposite will be found the portrait of Benjamin Carpenter Coleman, the third son of Benjamin Carpenter Coleman and Eleanor Vail, he being the fourth in direct line to bear the name of Benjamin.

The subject of this sketch was born on the seventh day of March, 1830, in the town of Wallkill, Orange County, N. Y. In 1831 his father purchased the Lusk farm in the town of Goshen, and moved there; a few years after he purchased and moved to the farm known as the Sherwood farm, in the town of Goshen. On the 16th day of August, 1845, his father fell from the roof of his wagon house, which he was repairing, striking on his head on a small block of wood and expired in about two hours.

On the breaking out of the gold excitement in 1849, he and his brother, Abraham, joined a large party from Orange County, N. Y., and bought a large vessel, leaving New York in the spring, going around Cape Horn, arriving in San Francisco, Cal., in the fall, where the ship was sold, the party going to the gold diggings along the Sacramento River, where he and his brother remained about three years, returning by way of the Isthmus of Panama. On the voyage out they made a number of stops to see the country in Brazil. They each cut a cane from an orange grove, one of which is still in the family. Near Cape Horn, in the month of July, they ran through a big snow storm.

After returning east he settled in New York, going into the oyster business, in which he continued until his death, at 148 Christopher St., August 21st, 1868, leaving a widow and three sons, Willard, Benjamin Carpenter and Roswell.

On November 28th, 1858, he married Mary Lena Bull, of Monroe, Orange County, N. Y., daughter of James Hervey Bull and Eleanor Board, a descendant of William Bull and Sarah Wells, the early settlers. His widow at the present time is living in Allendale, N. J.

Benjamin Carpenter Coleman was of a genial, happy disposition, a loving son to his widowed mother, a devoted husband, and firmly attached to his children.

BENJAMIN CARPENTER COLEMAN, SR.

BENJAMIN CARPENTER COLEMAN JR.

BENJAMIN CARPENTER COLEMAN.

On the opposite page will be found the portrait of Benjamin Carpenter Coleman, the third son of the preceding Benjamin Carpenter Coleman and Mary Lena Bull, he making the fifth Benjamin in succession.

The subject of this sketch was born on the 21st day of December, 1863, at 620 Hudson Street, New York City, N. Y. He lived in this city until the death of his father on August 21st, 1868; he then lived a few years in Monroe, Orange County, N. Y.; then his mother marrying again, he moved with the rest of the family to New York City, where he attended school, and later entered the dry goods store of A. T. Stewart, where he was for some time. He with his mother's family moved to Montclair, N. J., in May, 1879; later moving to Passaic, N. J., in May, 1880, where he was prominent in social clubs. In May, 1884, they all moved to Allendale, N. J., where his mother still resides.

In the spring of 1897, he leased the Wyckoff Hotel at Wyckoff, N. J., in which business he still continues to date, 1906. On June 9th, 1891, he married Alice Louise Green, of Suffern, N. Y., a daughter of Ira Green and Harriet Louise Smithson, both families of Orange County, N. Y. He has one daughter, Minnie Lena, who was born October 31st, 1892.

Since coming of age he has been active in politics, identifying himself with the Republican party, and has held various local offices, almost continuously; also being a delegate to several county conventions.

HECTOR HORTON COLEMAN.

The subject of this sketch was born in the town of Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y., on March 11th, 1837. His parents were John Coleman and Phebe Ketcham, who were natives of this county. His father was born November 8th, 1791, and his mother on August 25th, 1805. His father served as a soldier in the War of 1812, and died November 9th, 1859. His mother lived with him until the time of her death in Dekalb County, Ill., on December 1st, 1890.

During the Civil War he was drafted in the first draft held in the 11th congressional district, of which Orange County is a part, and paid the commutation of $300.

There were fifteen children in his father's family, thirteen of whom grew up, namely: Sarah A., Mary, Nathan, Mathias H., George E., John, Martha, James H. and Hiram, by his first wife; Dorothy Horton and Charles W., Hector H., Eugene K., Antoinette and Joséphine. The two last died in infancy. Of these fifteen children Charles W. and Hector H. are the only ones living at this date, January 1st, 1906.

Hector H. was married to Mary R., daughter of Harrison Mackey and Mary Hall, of Dekalb County, Ill., on November 30th, 1861, and has one son Harrison Mackey, born February 19th, 1863, in Newburgh, N. Y.

The subject of this sketch was brought up as a farmer and followed this occupation in Orange County, N. Y., until October, 1875, when he moved to Illinois and settled on section No. One, at Mayfield, Dekalb County, where he farmed it until 1896, when he moved to the village of Sycamore, and built a residence, where he still resides at No. 520 S. Main Street.

H. H. COLEMAN.

JOEL HULL COLEMAN

JOEL HULL COLEMAN.

Joel Hull was the youngest son of Joel Coleman and Sally Harlow. He was born on the farm in the town of Hamptonburgh, Orange county, N. Y., where he always lived, growing to manhood on the same place where his father and grandfather lived. He received a common school education, which with his natural ability, made him successful in his farming operations. He married first Frances Alida, daughter of General Calvin G. Sawyer, who lived but a few years after their marriage. This union was blest with one son, Calvin Sawyer. He afterwards married for his second wife, Abby Ann, daughter of Josiah Jackson and Susan Seely. They had no children.

He was a man of sterling integrity in all of his business relations, of correct habits, had the confidence of his fellow men, always seeming happy, meeting and greeting his neighbors with a smile and cordial hand shake, and was very successful as a farmer. He had one-half of his grandfather's large farm, on which he lived during his long and useful life, and where his death occurred. He was short in stature, with a powerful frame and capable of great endurance, which is one of the chief attributes of a successful farmer. Later in life he was stricken with paralysis, which in a few years caused his death, on 22nd day of Dec., 1901.

CALVIN SAWYER COLEMAN.

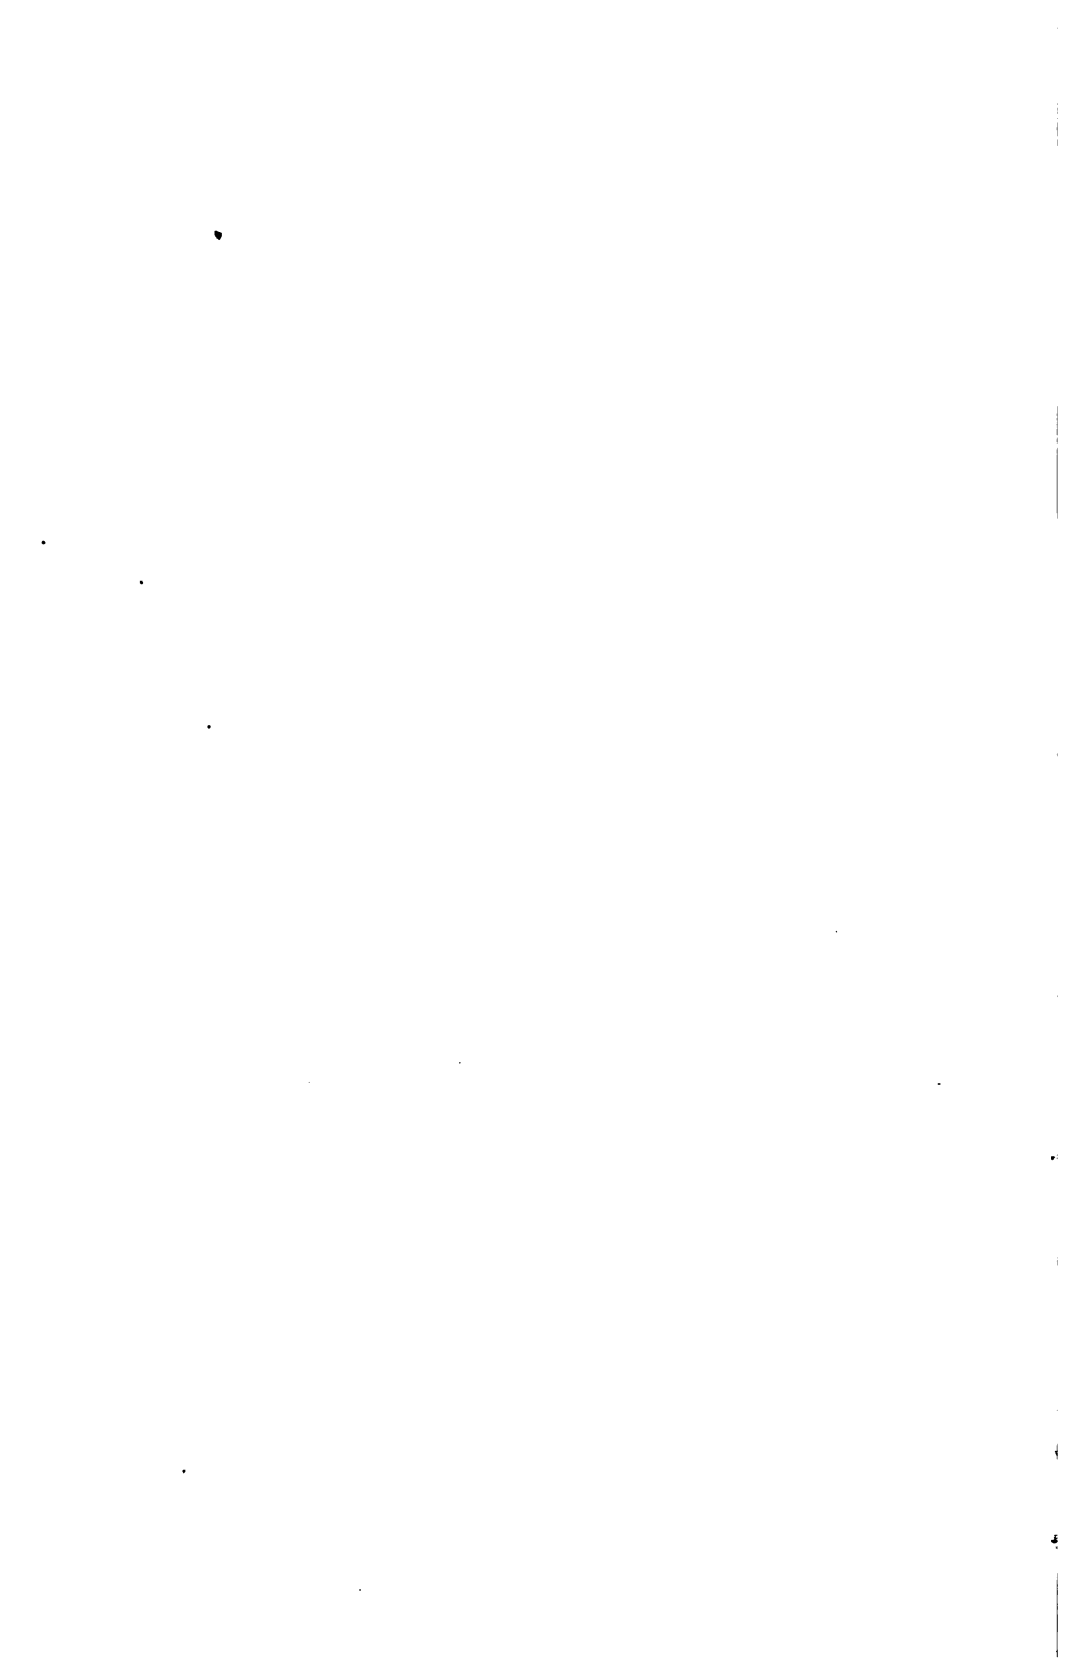

Calvin Sawyer Coleman, the son of Joel Hull Coleman, was born on the old homestead upon which four generations of this family have lived.

Joel, his great-grandfather, was a soldier in the Revolutionary army. He was at the Battle of White Plains and took part with the militia of Goshen at the battle of Minisink, July 22, 1779, where so many of his neighbors were massacred. His great-grandfather's brother, Benjamin, also took part in this battle, and both were fortunate enough to escape, with their scalps, from their bloodthirsty enemies.

Our subject married Margaret Elizabeth Brooks, and they have ten children, who will be found in the chapter on genealogy. He and his family reside at Bon Air, Virginia, he having moved South several years ago. He is a member of the Hudson River Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, No. 607, also Highland Chapter No. 52, at the same City, Newburgh, N. Y.

CALVIN SAWYER COLEMAN.

GEORGE COLEMAN.

There is no record when he, George (3), was born or when he died. The first we find of him is in Goshen, in 1732. He was the youngest child of William, of Southold, and probably born about 1690, as his son, William, was old enough to buy land in 1739-40. Of George (3) there is very little known. We find that he buys 80 acres of land in 1732, of Cornelius Jones—lot No. 1—in Goshen township, paying £40. This lot was bounded on the north by the lands of Mrs. Denne, east by the highway, south by the lands of Michael Dunning, and west by the highway. Mrs. Denne's land is now owned by the Coholans, the highway is the Goshen-Montgomery road, Michael Dunning's land the estate of A. S. Murray, and the highway in the rear has been closed for a great number of years. This lot passed to his son, Joseph, who owned it up to the time of his death in 1800, and to-day is owned by the Brewster family. His family consisted, as far as known, of William, Joseph, Benjamin, George, Joel, Abigail, and a daughter who died young, and the last record of him is where he witnesses the will of Henry Youngs, September 14th, 1743.

The only record we have of Joel is that he enlisted in 1758, and his age was 17 years, bringing his birth in 1741. The probability is that he was either killed or died in service while on the expedition to Canada against the French and Indians.

George (15) lived and died in Little Britain in 1778, leaving eleven children. (See genealogical chapter.)

The first and only record we have of William (17) was in Goshen. We find that while at Southold, L. I., he bought land in Goshen on the fifth day of March, 1739-40, and the deed is recorded on the fourth day of December, 1742, at the request of his brother, Benjamin (18).

The tradition of the family is that William and his wife returned to their old home for a visit and on arriving at the ferry on the Connecticut side of Long Island Sound, opposite Southold, the usual ferrriage had gone and they being unwilling to wait until the morning, they started to cross the sound in a row boat and that was the last ever heard from them. They had no children.

Joseph (16) lived and died on the lot No. 1, which his father bought in 1732, and at his death he owned about 200 acres of land, which he gave to his son Nathaniel's children.

Benjamin (18) lived on the Michael Dunning farm, adjoining the farm of his father, George (5), where his children were born. There is no record to show when he purchased the farm. He married first Hannah, the eldest daughter of Timothy Wood and Hannah, daughter of Richard Oldfield, of Jamaica, L. I. Timothy Wood and Hannah Oldfield were married February 11, 1725. Their daughter Hannah, being the oldest child, would bring her birth about 1727, the exact date not being known.

Benjamin and Hannah Coleman had three children, Benjamin (43), born April 16, 1755; Joel (44), born August 23, 1758, and Abigail. The descendants of Joel and Abigail will be found in the genealogical chapter. Benjamin married second Martha — and had one son John (45), born July 17, 1768. The records of the Presbyterian church in Goshen, show that they were members of that church in 1767. He died in 1802. His part of the new Goshen Court tax in 1775 was 16 shillings and 7 pence.

Benjamin (43) married Hannah Finch on the 25th day of January, 1731. She was the daughter of John Finch and Christianna Carpenter and was born on November 15, 1761. The first few years of their married life they lived in the town of Minisink, near Slate Hill, then Brookfield. Afterwards he bought a farm in the town of Bloomingrove, now Hamptonburgh. The farm was lot No. 3 of precinct of Goshen and consisted of 118 acres. He afterwards bought another small farm in East Division of Goshen, where he ended his days. He, in his old age, became blind, and walked off the end of the stoop of his house and broke his leg and died August 5, 1832. His wife survived him and died April 8th, 1846. She joined the First Presbyterian church of Goshen on Oct. 11, 1807. They are buried in the Vail Cemetery of East Division of Goshen, as is their son Benjamin C. and his wife. He served in the Revolutionary army as a private in the Third Regiment of Orange County Militia, and in Lieut. Col. Tusten's Regiment, and belonged to the Goshen Company that was at the battle of Minisink, July 22, 1779, and was one of the fortunates who escaped with their scalps. The following is a list of their children: John Finch, Gabriel, Benjamin Carpenter, Christian, Ira, Fanny, and James who died in infancy. Of their children Ira, was the only one born in Goshen, as they moved on their farm in 1794. While at Slate Hill they assisted in the raising the old church now standing there, a relic of bygone days and ancient architecture.

Their son, Benjamin Carpenter (94), was born Aug. 2, 1791, and was married on the 17th day of October, 1816, by the Rev. Mr. Hopkins, to Eleanor, the eldest daughter of General Abraham Vail. She was born on the 9th day of August, 1793. They lived for several years on his father's farm and moved to West Division of Goshen on a farm he bought of Timothy Wood. After buying and selling several farms he finally settled on a farm he bought of Joseph E. Sherwood, of New York City, 148 acres, in the Southern Division of Goshen. This farm on his death passed to James M. Bull. His death took place on the 16th day of August, 1845. While repairing his wagon house, he fell backwards from a height of about eight feet, his head striking on a small piece of board which lay on the ground, and he expired in about an hour.

Benjamin C. and his wife Eleanor first united with the First Presbyterian church in Goshen, he on November 6, 1820, she on May 2, 1814. They afterwards united with the Presbyterian church of Chester by letter.

He was a wheelwright and carpenter by trade, and many young men learned their trade from him. He also assisted in the formation of the Chester Bank on the 31st day of May, 1845. He and his brother, Gabriel, were soldiers in the War of 1812, and his family received a land bounty of eighty acres for such service. Following is a copy of his discharge from the army:

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Headquarters Quarantine Grounds,
Staten Island, December 12th, 1814.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY,

That Benjamin C. Coleman, late a private in Lieut. Col. Michael Smith's Regiment of Detached Militia, from Orange County, in the State of New York, in the service of the U. States, is HONORABLY DISCHARGED, having served three months, being the period required by the Government of the UNITED STATES, and during which time his conduct has been honorable to himself and a credit to the service.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand.

THOMAS JACKSON, Captain.
B. MANY, First Major.

The children of the above will be found in the genealogical chapter.

JAMES CARPENTER COLEMAN.

He was the oldest son of Benjamin C. Coleman and Eleanor Vail. He was born on the 28th day of April, 1820, in the town of Bloomingrove, on his grandfather's farm, where he lived until 1825, when his father moved to the town of Goshen. With the exception of two years, the balance of his unmarried life was spent in the town of Goshen. He was married on the 12th day of February, 1840, to Phebe Ann, daughter of the Hon. Roswell Mead and Hannah Cash, who lived near Brookfield, in the town of Minisink, now Wawayanda. They commenced their housekeeping on the farm of his father. In 1842 he purchased the farm of 52½ acres, situated on the old Craigville road, about one mile from the village of Goshen. He moved to New York City, corner of Spring and Elm Streets. In this store he was the third person to sell Orange County milk in the city, being preceded by two others the year before (1842). At this time the farmers of Orange County shipped their milk in churns to New York, not having any cans, by the Erie railroad to Piermont, then by boat on the Hudson River to the city.

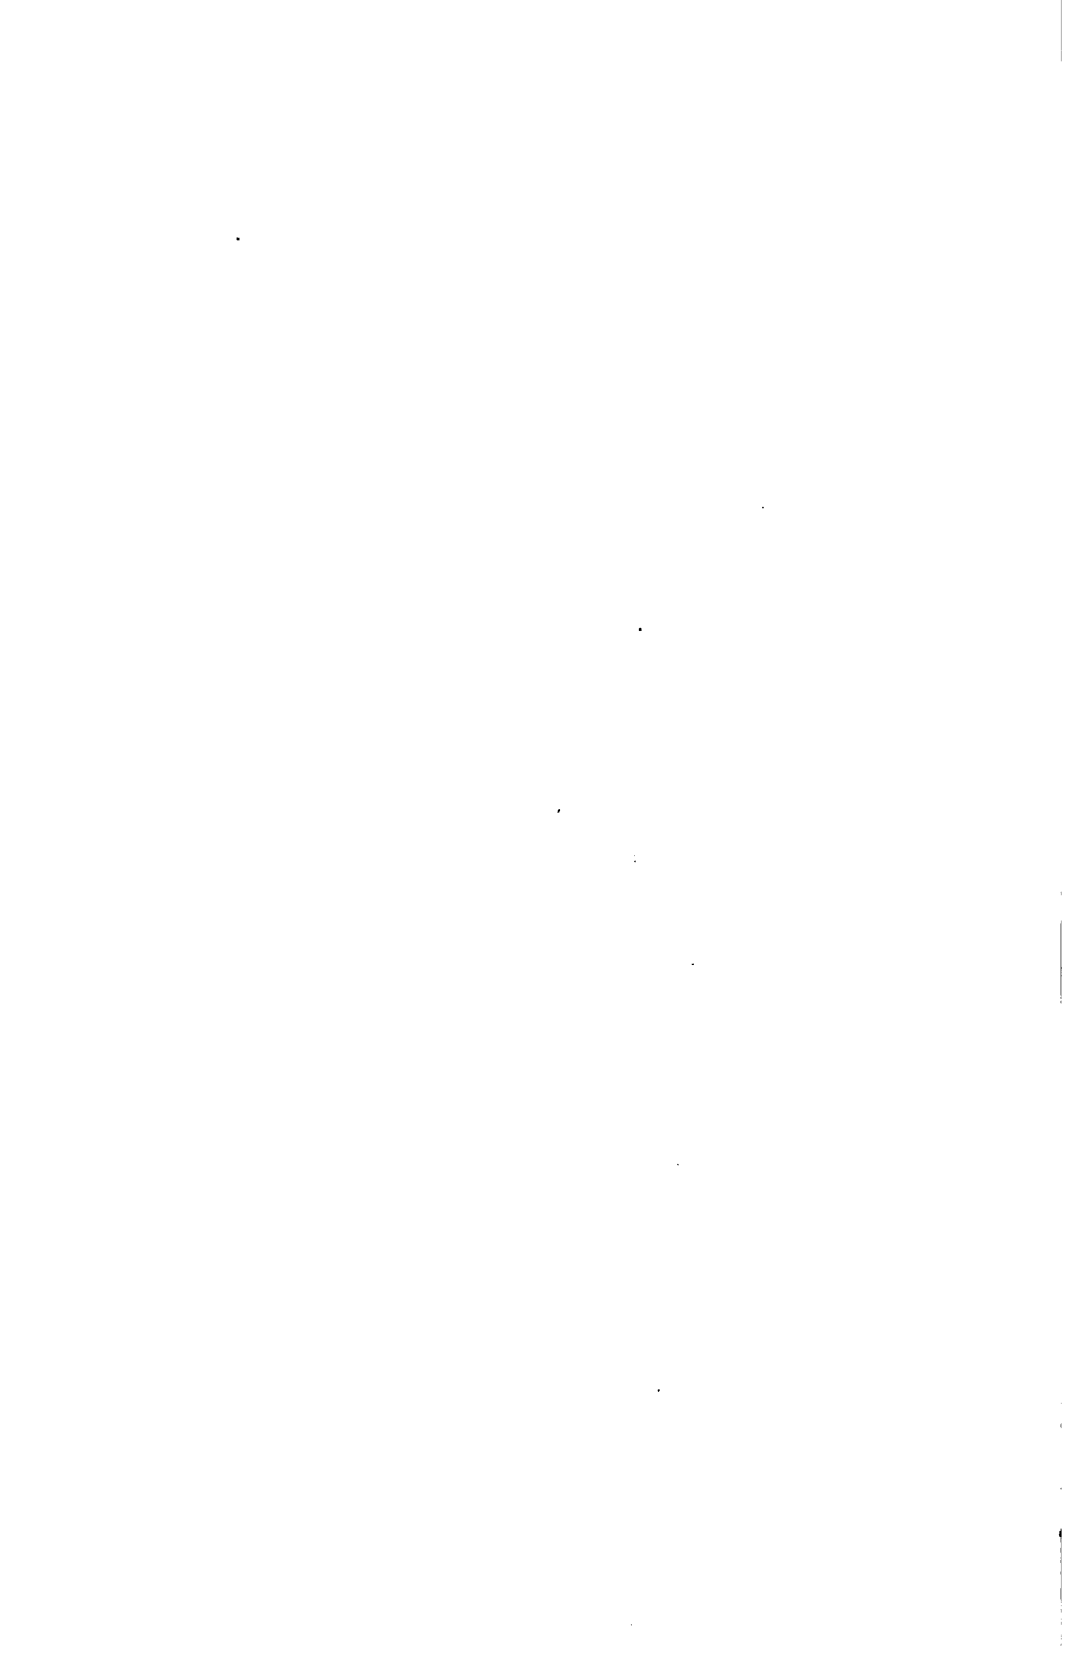

In 1845-46 he lived in Chester, N. Y., and kept a general country grocery store. In 1848-49 he had a store in New York city, corner of Stanton and Sheriff Streets, having John Jenkins for a partner, which partnership did not last long, Jenkins retiring.

At the time the gold excitement in California came up, he with his brothers, Abraham and Benjamin, took shares in a vessel building, to go to California by way of around the Horn. He afterwards decided not to go, but gave his share to James Smith, who was to divide his profits equally with him on his return. He never returned, but died in California. The writer remembers seeing his uncles mould bullets to take along with them and was present when the ship was launched in East River. In 1851 he lived at No. 23 Troy Street, and in 1852 he opened another milk store at No. 3 Seventh Ave., selling on the first day two quarts of milk, but the trade soon developed until he sold about 1,200 quarts a day. On the 1st of April, 1860, he sold this store and returned again to his farm, having added, by purchasing of Daniel Case, sixty-five acres in 1857. Here he remained until the spring of 1868, when he removed to the village of Goshen, where he lived until his death in 1882.

While living on the farm his taste ran to raising of blooded stock of horses. He had the pleasure of raising several very fast horses among them being Garry Owen, that sold for $2,000, Goshen Maid for $1,500, Lady Coleman for $1,000, Harvest and several others of lesser note. In 1882 he sold 90 acres of this farm to Charles F. Johnson, having previously sold to his son, Dr. James C., the balance of the farm. While making the survey for the last sale, he had a stroke of paralysis and died Feb. 1st, 1882. . This obituary appeared in one of the Goshen papers : " The death of James C. Coleman, which occurred at about nine o'clock this morning at his residence in this village, while not wholly unanticipated, comes with a shock to the many friends which a life of nearly sixty years of usefulness and integrity had drawn about him. The stroke which prostrated him last week occurred while he was engaged in making a survey of the farm near this village which he recently sold." Mr. and Mrs. James C. Coleman first united, in 1845, with the Presbyterian church, in Chester, N. Y., then by letter with the 13th Street Presbyterian church of New York City, and finally with the First Presbyterian church in Goshen in 1864. He held for several years the office of Street Commissioner of the Village of Goshen and was one of the town Assessors for three years. He also took great interest in the Orange County Agricultural Society and in the Orange County Society for the Improvement of Horses as long as it was in existence.

ROSWELL CARPENTER COLEMAN.

Born December 3, 1840, about one mile east of the village of Goshen, N. Y., son of James C. and Phebe Ann (Mead) Coleman, he spent his boyhood days between New York City and Orange County; was educated in the ward schools of that city, one year at the Free Academy and finished with a year in the private school of David L. Towle in Goshen; began the study of law in the office of Sharpe & Winfield in that village, completed his course of study at the Albany Law School and was admitted to the Bar at the May term of the Supreme Court in Albany, N. Y., and is President of the Newburgh, N. Y., Historical Society.

He was a member of the American Rifle team which went to Ireland and England in 1875 and was appointed Inspector of Rifle Practice, with the rank of Captain, in 1875, by Governor Tilden.

His height is six feet, weight about 185, eyes grey, and complexion light. His marriage and children will be found in the chapter on genealogy, under number 323.
